COMPLAINTS about the hot weather were common during the past week.

As a matter of fact we are writing this masterpiece (?) during one of the warmest days so far this summer.

Chances are, however, that when you read it, the weather will have cooled off once again. If it hasn't, you won't want to read anything about the weather anyway.

To take your mind off the hot weather, Joe Anello suggested that we put in a plug this week for the Christmas cards that The Press has just received in stock.

He claims that, if the people would concentrate on the cards and the Christmas season now, it would do much to make them forget about the current hot weather spell.

We don't know whether that psychology is worth a darn. But we do know that hundreds of boxes of Christmas cards have arrived at our joint.

Besides the wide selection that a customer has now, the cards are being offered at a 25% discount.

There is no charge for the added service of getting your mind off the hot weather. That is, if Joe's theory is to be believed.

FOR THREE HOURS last Thursday evening we sat and listened to the proponents and opponents sound off at the public hearing called by the County Committee on School District Organization.

The hearing was called because of a petition that had been presented by 500 residents of the district. The petitioners asked that a restudy be made of the necessity of the junior college's continued existence.

They also asked that a positive plan be drafted for consolidating the district with Foothill and San Jose junior college districts.

-o-

BRUCE ALLEN, former assemblyman and now president of the board of governors of the new junior college, made the most pertinent remark of the evening, in our opinion.

Maybe the reason we thought it was so pertinent was that it agreed so emphatically with our own thinking on the subject.

"The time to study has long passed," Allen emphasized. "It is now time to act. You people are more than two years too late with your request."

Those are our sentiments exactly.

The district has been formed by the vote of the electorate.

Dr. Wallace Hall, one of the outstanding educators in the state, has been employed as superintendent.

Top-notch instructors have been obtained.

College 'restudy' meets opposition

West Valley Junior College withstood a three-hour sniping attack last Thursday night from a small group of dissident citizens who questioned the need of the junior college, slated to open this fall with more than 2000 students.

And, in turn, college officials turned some heavy artillery, in the shape of facts and figures, against the snipers themselves, to prove that the college is on a sound basis.

The results of the fray, which was in form of a public hearing on a petition that had been presented, to the County Committee on School District Organization, will not be known officially until August 6, when the committee holds its regular meeting.

PETITION

A group of 500 residents had requested the committee to re-evaluate the junior college district through a restudy. This restudy would include the presenting of a positive plan to align with the adjoining Foothill and San Jose junior college district. The group also wanted the study to determine the necessity of the continued existence of the West Valley Junior College existence.

More than 200 residents from the Campbell, Los Gatos, and Santa Clara high school districts, which comprise the West Valley Junior College District, packed the Campbell High School cafetorium at the hearing.

At the start of the hearing, Wes Wihtol, chairman of the committee, submitted letters from the Campbell Los Gatos, and Santa Clara chambers of Hearing features use of houses

Things could be a trifle "sticky" at the Planning Commission meeting.

Five houses reportedly rated as substandard by city inspectors, are slated to be the star attractions at the public hearing next Tuesday, August 4, conducted by the Planning Commission.

The houses could cause a slight rift between college and city.

The houses are located on the recently city-approved 2 1/2 - acre parking lot leased by the West Valley Junior College at Winchester and Latimer from Charles Rose. College officials are asking for a use permit to use the houses for temporary offices and storage.

Planning Commission members in approving the parking area, were careful to specity that the approval did not include the use of the houses. This would take special action. The request for a use permit is a result.

Both fire and building department officials have indicated that their preliminary inspections showed that the houses did not meet city standards. They will probably oppose the issuance of the use permit on that basis.

College officials maintain that their funds are limited and the use of the buildings would assist them in their first year of operation.

West Valley Junior College has also submitted a request for another use permit which would allow the college to use property between Rincon and Campbell Ave. for temporary student and staff parking. The use permit describes the area as 111-112 Salice Way; 115-135-151 Rose Court.

Also on the commission's agenda for next Tuesday is the request of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Howe for a use permit to operate a nursery school at 45 W. Budd Ave.

In still another request the planners will be asked to approve a service station at Millich Drive and Hamilton.

SUMMER CONCERT TO TAKE PLACE-- On August 6, at 7:30 p.m., students participating in the summer music program as part of the recreational activities of the Campbell school district, will present their annual concert in the Cherry Lane School cafetorium. Approximately 357 students are enrolled this summer under the direction of Ed Tonini. Last Saturday 278 of the summer music students attended the Ice Follies at Winterland in San Francisco.

Campbell High speakers win nationwide honors

Campbell High School's speech and debate squad now ranks in the top ten teams of the nation as a result of its performance in the 1964 National Tournament recently concluded in Akron, Ohio, according to Principal Robert Culp.

Mary Neal, Jon Rowberry and John Ritter, three recently graduated seniors of Campbell, accumulated enough sweepstakes points at the National tournament to place their school in the upper ten of the 177 schools participating.

Miss Neal, the only Northern Californian to reach the final round in the National competition, placed sixth in the nation in Girls Extemporaneous Speaking and won a medal.

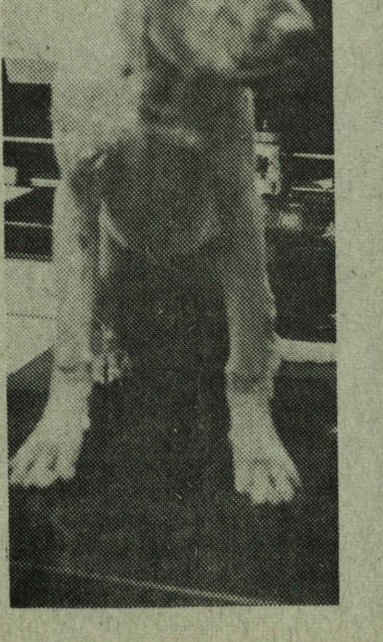
Rowberry, who entered the tournament in Original Oratory, later competed in the secondary Impromptu Speaking contest and placed seventh in the nation. Sweepstakes points were credited to the Campbell trio as follows:

Miss Neal (Extemp. and Debate); nine points.

Ritter (Extemp. and Debate); seven points.

Rowberry (Oratory and Dramatic); five points.

Friends of "Rover of Dover", alias "Jake", seek home for dog



Rover of Dover
— Needs a home

Rover of Dover alias "Jake" makes friends easily. But his friends are having a difficult time in finding a permanent home for him. And they need help.

And it's not because the friendly dog is not wanted. His friends just don't have the proper facilities for him. But they are just as determined that the dog pound is not the answer either.

Rover-of-Dover (an appellation coined by The Press) came into prominence when he wandered onto the playground at Dover School the day before school was out.

The friendly pup had received a deep gash on his neck and the kids knew that he needed medical attention at once. This would cost money. In an unprecedented action, they dug into their jeans and raised $19 from their fellow schoolmates to help defray the vet bill which included an operation.

Rover soon was good as new. But when Dr. Patrick Baymiller of Central Animal Hospital pronounced the guy ready to leave the hospital, Rover-of-Dover had no place to go.

None of his young benefactors, who had showed their concern for the dog's welfare by their generous contributions could take him due to one reason or another.

Dr. Baymiller then appealed to the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Virginia Williamson, part-time C. of C. secretary, agreed to take the pup on a temporary basis until a permanent home could be found.

But it didn't take long for Rover-of-Dover renamed "Jake" by the Williamsons, to win over his new family consisting of Ike, Virginia's husband, and Georgia, 13 and Maggie 9, and their two cats. They live at 155 Alice. So soon at a family council "Jake" was voted in as a permanent fixture.

But the Williamsons' yard is small and they are gone a lot.

As much as they want to keep him, they now feel that "Jake" needs a bigger yard. In a tearful family council session, it was decided that they will have to give him up or move to a larger place.

But he will have the best of references. Even the cats will agree that "Jake" has fitted nicely into the family picture.

The Williamson phone number: 378-0186.

But be discreet when you call.

They haven't told "Jake" yet.

City manager gets new aide

On September 1, the City of Campbell will employ an administrative assistant for the first time in the city's history.

City Manager Robert Stephens announced this week that Edmund H. Ravenscroft, 28, of 1578 Trevor Drive, San Jose, who ranked highest in both the written examinations for the position, has accepted employment by the city.

Ravenscroft received his B. A. from Alleheny College, Pa., and his masters degree in business administration from the University of California. His wife is a teacher in the Oak Grove School District.

The position pays $541 per month. The new assistant will relieve Stephens of some of his administrative details including purchasing and personnel testing.

Editorial

Expressway worries

Last week we editorially suggested that another look should be taken at the plans of the San Tomas Expressway before it comes through town.

The plans call for both Latimer and Rincon to be cut off by the expressway and that Budd-expressway intersection be signalized.

We suggested that because of the increase in population since the plans were first drawn and the traffic problems that the growth has created cutting off Latimer and Rincon might compound the local traffic problems.

We also realized that we were late with our suggestion and that any changes in the present plans would be highly expensive.

Our point was, however, that if the changes had merit it would be better to make them before the construction started rather than after the road was completed.

We are happy to report that we have learned there are a number of others who feel that another hard look should be taken at the expressway plans especially where they block off the roads in town.

Several members of the city council have mentioned that they have been concerned about the same situation.

One councilman said that he was unhappy especially over the Budd and Rincon plans.

The signalization of Budd, he claims, will stimulate the development of service stations at the four corners and will do nothing to improve that area of the city.

There should be an underpass for Budd and Rincon should be signalized, according to this city father.

Most city officials are resigned to the fact that there is not much that can be done at this stage of the game to keep Latimer from being blocked off. They feel that with both Campbell and Hamilton as through streets, it probably is not feasible to make Latimer one, too.

Everyone realizes, of course, that if an expressway is to do the job for which it is intended, cross-traffic must be held to the minimum.

While we admit that a subway at the Budd-expressway interchange would be much more expensive than traffic signals, we are inclined to agree with the city council that this extra expense would be well worth the chips in the foreseeable future.

And it just may be the only way we can keep four more service stations from cropping up in town. Apparently every other method suggested has been unsuccessful.

We also agree that Rincon should be signalized and made a through street.

We know we will be criticized for making these suggestions at this late date.

On the other hand, we maintain that it is not too late. The dirt has not yet started to fly in the section of the thoroughfare about which we are most concerned.

We have seen too many instances where a highway is obsolete almost before the first car travels over it. In several cases we know that thousands of dollars could have been saved if changes had been allowed in the original plans.

We hope that if our city councilmen are convinced that some changes should be made in the expressway system, they will make a determined effort to convince the proper authorities of their thinking.

HONORED BY SAFEWAY--Mrs. Vi Stroh, clerk at Hamilton Plaza's Safeway Store and Joe Lemus, of the Campbell Plaza store, were honored recently by Safeway for their outstanding service and courtesy to customers. They were presented with merchandise prizes and special badges designating them as members of the Safeway Courtesy Club. M. B. Houser, Safeway retail operations manager for the San Francisco division presented the awards, noting that only six store employees are selected for the honor each month out of 3,300 eligible. Participating in the award ceremony was H. L. Barton, San Jose district manager. Pictured, left to right, Houser, Mrs. Stroh, Lemus and Barton.

And the delay that any restudy will create will cause an unnecessary increase in taxes. A restudy will serve no useful purpose. Unless one calls raising taxes "useful."

They go up fast enough, without any such help, thank you.

In our opinion, it is just another example of being "too little and too late."

-o-

AN EVENLY DIVIDED packed house at the hearing warmly applauded the speakers. It was hard to tell by the applause which side had the more people present.

Although tempers grew short at times, both sides showed courtesy to their opponents most of the time.

We were a little provoked at one guy who was sitting near us in the front row who gave the thumbs down gesture after Chairman Wes Wihtal had traced the history of the establishment of the junior college.

We half-expected him to take off his shoe and pound the table. We saw that on TV once. Remember?

But his gesture was an isolated case, fortunately.

-o-

DR. WALLACE HALL received an ovation of which he was most deserving after he had gone to the mike to explain the deterrent effect any restudy at this time would have on the morale of both students and faculty.

West Valley Junior College is dedicated to serving the adults and students of the junior college district, Dr. Hall told the audience.

He impressed us and the crowd by his sincerity.

We have an idea that WVJC will be an outstanding school, if that disgruntled minority will just get off its back for a while and allow the college to progress.

SOME GUY WANTED to know whether the city was picking up the tab for the wives of the councilmen who made the trip to Miami Beach, Florida, last week for the American Municipal Congress.

For the record, the city only pays the way of the councilmen. It is illegal to pay the expenses of the wives.

The councilmen started attending the congress about five years ago. The councilmen who has attended the sessions have maintained that they have learned a great deal from the meetings. It has been worthwhile in every respect.

Truck hits small car

Two men were treated at Campbell Community Hospital's emergency department for possible injuries received Friday, July 24, when their Porsche Convertible collided with a 3/4 ton truck on a long curve on San Tomas Road, north of Hazel Avenue.

The driver of the Porsche, William H. Gerrard, 29, 914 Samsen St., San Jose, was cited by Campbell Police for failure to remain on the right side of the roadway. Gerrard, who was going south, and his passenger, David Monday of Campbell, were treated at the hospital and released.

The truck was driven by Dewey Wayne Liles, 32, 3965 Bismark Ave., San Jose, who was heading north on San Tomas Rd.

No more pulling and tugging to get frozen foods out of the freezer. No more worry about food thawing out while you're defrosting. No more mess of melting ice. There's no defrosting ever because you'll never find a spot of frost in new freezer or refrigerator compartments. And because of improved design and insulation, new models have up to 50% more interior space than models ten years ago—in the same kitchen space. That's the inside story. The outside is just as nice: handsome pastel shades like coppertone, pink and yellow. All around, a new refrigerator-freezer is a great convenience and family investment.

Campbell-Quito meet in playoff tilt

Pony Leaguers gallop onward

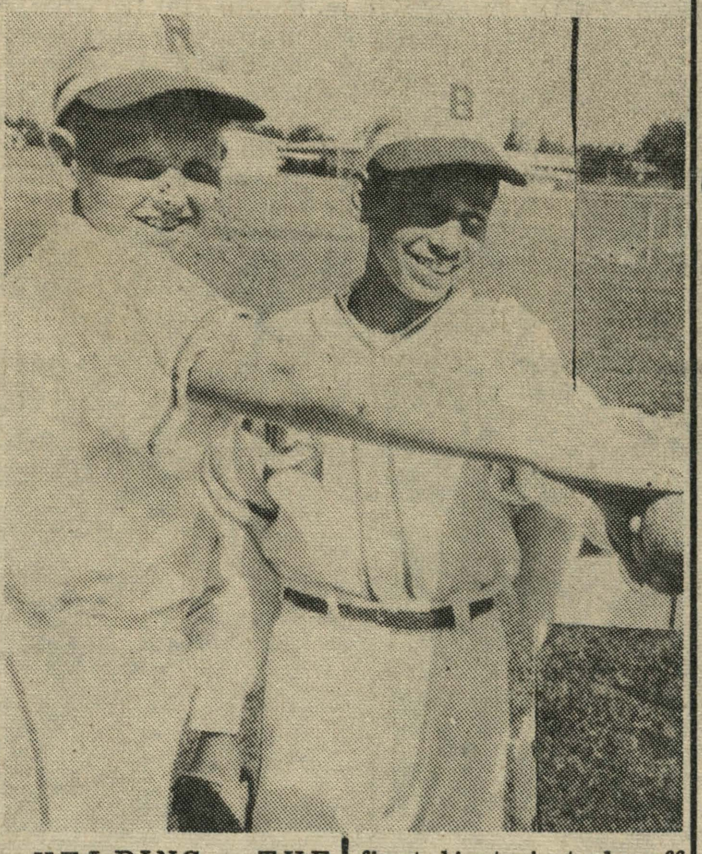
Campbell-Moreland Pony League all-stars, fresh from a three-game sweep in the area tournament, this week are playing in the district tournament in Felton.

The local ponies scored two shutouts, 12-0 and 6-0 against San Jose and Santa Clara teams and then clinched the area championship with a 4-3 win Saturday over another San Jose team.

A number of the all-stars are graduates of the world championship Little League team of 1962 including Milton Murata, Vaughn Takaha, Duane Kubo, Ted Campbell, Mike Ucci and Phil Kagel. Three former stars on Campbell Little League's top team of 1962 are also on the team. They are Mark Tauku, Tom Stamford and Ken McLain.

The Campbell-Moreland all-stars are managed by Joe Gagliardi.

In Pony League playoffs, a team must lose two games before being eliminated.



HELPING THE CAUSE—Wayne Peyton (left) of the Campbell Little League all-stars who played for Robins during the regular season was on the mound when Campbell beat Sunnyvale 1-0 in the first district playoff game. He is standing next to Mark Ramos, an all-star from Breuner's, who slammed a homerun in the first contest to take care of all the game's scoring for the night.

Restudy meets

commerce opposing a restudy at this time because it would be a costly duplication of previous studies made before the district was formed. He also read a letter from Foothill College officials which explained why Foothill was not interested in expanding that district.

FOUR-MAN

A four-man team comprised of Philip Lively, Henry Imsen, Richard Chekian and Paul Ames, from the Saratoga area, represented the petitioners at the hearing.

They claimed that the voter turnout had been poor when the district was formed, which showed lack of interest; the bond election had failed; drastic changes had taken place recently in adjacent junior college districts and that the West Valley district had a weak financial base, which would penalize the taxpayers.

Chairman Wihtol was critized by the team-members when before the clean-up hitter (Ames) had spoken, he reviewed the history of the junior college district formation. He quoted from minutes of his committee to show that an extensive study had been made of all facets of the situation, before the committee had recommended the district be formed.

ALLEN ANSWERS

The most telling blows against the petitioners were made by Bruce Allen, district board chairman.

Allen maintained that the request to restudy was merely a means to "throw sand in the gears" to prevent the district from carrying out the mandate of the people.

He blasted the group for being two years too late with their request as the time to study had passed. Now was the time to act, he declared.

COSTLY DELAY

He said that the delay that another study would cause would mean a tax increase in the future, for a state allocation of $1,200,000 would be lost, if the district doesn't move ahead on the educational front.

It was also pointed out that the committee conducting the hearing could not dissolve the district which had been legally formed by the electorate. Another study at this time, duplicating the one made in prior years, then would serve no useful purpose.

Dr. Wallace Hall, president of the college, received a big ovation from the almost evenly divided crowd when he explained that the college was prepared to move ahead with the finest educational program obtainable. He said that a high-caliber faculty had been employed and, if the study was approved it would adversely affect the morale of both the teachers and students.

He concluded by emphasizing that the college was dedicated to the adults and students of the district and that the district would be proud of the educational opportunities that will be offered by the new junior college.

One of the highlights of the hearing was the appearance of Steve Brydon at the mike. He represented his father, Robert, vice-president of the college board. Young Brydon read a statement from his father, who is ill at home, opposing the request for a restudy.

Optimists win Pony League

Pony League completed a successful season with the choosing of the All Stars. The play off was between the San Jose Lath and Campbell Optimists.

The Campbell Optimists won the championship for 1964. Joe Gagliardi accepted the trophy in honor of the team which was presented by Dick Dickinson, President of Pony League. Dickinson also congratulated and gave awards to the players.

The Women's Auxiliary expressed appreciation to all who worked so hard to make the Buffet Dance a success. Also in closing the season, the League would like to send good wishes to the players who have left and are looking forward to welcoming the newcomers next season.

Teams play Thursday on Rosemary diamond

Campbell and Quito Little League all-star teams, each having taken a Sunnyvale team into camp in their first of District 44 playoff games, tangle tomorrow (Thursday) at Rosemary School field at 6 p.m.

The winner of the Campbell-Quito contest will play again on Friday night on the same field in one of the semi-final playoffs taking place throughout the league.

The final battle in District 44 will take place on the local field on Saturday at 6 p.m. Mayor Charles Rose of Campbell will be on hand to present a trophy to the district champions.

Both Campbell and Quito edged by their Sunnyvale opposition by identical scores, 1-0. Campbell won last Wednesday from Sunnyvale Metro and Quito on Thursday from Sunnyvale National.

District 44 comprises 22 different leagues and other preliminary playoff games have been taking place in other localities.

But the big one will be played here Saturday night when the championship will be decided. The district winner will then move on to bigger worlds to conquer.

Wayne Peyton was the winning pitcher in the closely-fought 1-0 battle last Wednesday at Rosemary field between Campbell and Sunnyvale Metro. Jeff Lauro was behind the plate for Campbell.

The lone score for Campbell came on a homerun by Mark Ramos in the second inning.

Citizens group begins study of sewer problems

Because this area's fantastic growth is running about 20 years ahead of population estimates made less than 15 years ago, the area faces a problem in providing sewerage facilities for the residents.

The area has now reached the 1990 projected level in population, a citizens group learned last week.

Plans for a proposed $7,380,000 bond issue to provide for expansion of District 4 trunk sewers and to purchase additional capacity in the San Jose sewerage facilities are now under study by a citizens committee.

The committee met for the first time last week and will meet again on August 5 to form sub-committees to consider the financial and engineering aspects of the necessary expansion of District 4 sewerage facilities.

The need for expansion of District 4 is a result of the population growth within the district, Stephen H. Goodman, district manager and engineer, told the committee.

Goodman reported that the population within the district has increased from 22,000 in 1948 to more than 75,000 in 1964. He said that the present District 4 trunk sewers were designed and constructed in 1950 to provide for a population of 70,000 expected to be reached in 1990. The proposed $7,380,000 would provide for expansion of District 4 trunk sewers and purchase additional capacity in the San Jose sewerage facilities.

The citizens committee is made up of M.B. Brinkman, Robert C. Sneed, Harry T. Richards, William Graham, Kenneth H. Stringfellow, Desmond Johnson, Charles W. Davidson, Clifford W. Swenson, William A. Stuart, William W. Lester, Jack Boyto, C. Dale McIntyre, George H. Hassett and William Cilker. The directors of District 4 appointed Cilker, a resident of Los Gatos, as chairman of the group.

At the August 5 meeting of the committee the sub-committees will be named. These committees will consider population estimates, health, location, size and cost of facilities, contractual arrangements with City of San Jose and financing.

The need for purchasing additional capacity in the San Jose-Santa Clara Water Pollution Control Plant and the San Jose trunk sewer facilities is a direct result of the growth within, Goodman told the committee at the organizational meeting.

JC remodeling

Remodeling of temporary facilities for West Valley Junior College, in downtown Campbell, is approximately two weeks ahead of schedule, according to Pres. Wallace W. Hall.

Much of the repainting and the rough plumbing has been completed, Dr. Hall said, and the telephone equipment has arrived.

Zion Lutheran Church has Vacation School

Vacation Bible School will begin next week at Zion Lutheran Church, corner of Payne and Eden Avenues, in San Jose.

This year there will be a double session to enable more children to participate. Pre-school and kindergarten, ages three to six years, will attend August 3-14, from 9:00-11:00 a.m.

Both sessions will include Bible study, handicraft work, games, singing, refreshments and fun.

Co-superintendents of the school are Mrs. Lois Halley and Mrs. Nelma Stafford.

There is a limited number of registration openings but anyone interested in signing up for either session may still do so and are asked to contact Mrs. Beatrice Borsgard, 244-5571.

MOTORCYCLE MISHAP

Rodger G. Lockhart, a Petty Officer in the U.S. Coast Guard of 375 Millbrook Court, was taken to Campbell Community Hospital July 22 when he was thrown from his motorcycle. Campbell Police, who investigated the mishap, said the victim apparently drove into a hole or hit a rock on private property on Budd Avenue.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Early this year California agricultural leaders started an intensive campaign to recruit domestic workers as replacements for Mexican braceros.

Realizing that the only hope to eventually extend the bracero program was to prove that domestic workers weren't available, they contacted eighteen state employment offices seeking workers.

The Director of Employment in West Virginia, one of the pockets of poverty which President Johnson is seeking to aid, wrote the farmers as follows: "We regret to inform you that West Virginia is a demand state instead of a supply state for agricultural labor. We recruit hundreds of workers from southern states, especially from Florida, for our crop harvests. During the past eleven years we have also found it necessary to utilize foreign workers....".

Of all the states in depressed Appalachia, where government help is being requested, none was able to offer farm labor in any supply.

A Salinas Valley farm recently paid the transportation from Mississippi for forty-six agricultural workers. In June only eleven remained on the same farm. Most of the others had migrated to the Bay Area to compete for the jobs of union workers.

When Alameda County strawberry growers were in danger of losing their crop for lack of labor, they requested braceros from the State Department of Employment. They advertised for workers in the newspapers and paid for spot announcements on five radio stations. The farm labor office issued a statewide call for the 300 workers needed to pick 162 acres of strawberries. When all this failed they appealed to the Welfare Department.

Alameda County, which carries a welfare load of $50 million per year, was paying benefits of 613 families under the new Aid to Unemployed Families program. After physical examinations of those who claimed they could not do field work, it was found that 583 heads of families were physically able to pick strawberries. The growers arranged for a 42 capacity bus at a cost of $40 per day to transport workers to the field on May 5 and the Welfare office people urged the 583 to show up for work. The first morning one lonely woman rode the bus. The second day showed a 100% improvement -- two rode to the fields. Then the Welfare Department got tough and threatened to cut off checks, so on the third day six showed up. At a guaranteed hourly wage, the cost of picking often exceeded the price for which the berries were sold and still there were not enough to do the job. After nine days of prodding, twenty-nine workers went to the field on the morning of May 14 and only nine lasted to ride home on the bus.

Under the new Aid for Unemployed Families program, an unemployed worker with four children can draw $232.50 per month without working. This amount is paid for from a 40% contribution by the federal and state governments and the remainder comes from a county contribution. Based upon a normal work week, this amounts to $1.52 per hour for doing absolutely nothing. Obviously, it does not provide much incentive for the unemployed to do farm work.

Thus, the California grower, who is conscientiously trying to solve his labor problem by recuirting the domestic unemployed, is competing with the federal, state and county governments, which use his tax dollar to subsidize someone else's idleness.

Yaltah Menuhin and spouse to present concert

Next event of the current 10th Annual Summer Music Festival at Villa Montalvo cultural center, near Saratoga, will be internationally famous pianists Yaltah Menuhin and her husband, Joel Ryce, in two concerts, performing with four hands on a single keyboard on Friday, July 31 at 8:30 and Sunday, Aug. 2 at 3:30.

Presenting the piano in a refreshing dimension by using the barely touched technique, long neglected on the concert stage, the couple will play the following program at each recital:

Sonata in F major, K. 497 by Mozart; Liebeslieder Waltzes, Opus 65 by Brahms; and Petrouchka by Stravinsky.

In some pieces, Miss Menuhin plays the treble and Ryce the bass parts; in others they switch positions and in occasional passages, their arms intertwine and separate with bewildering rapidity, making for a beautifully intergrated performance.

Each artist will also play solo. Ryce will render Schumann's Sonata in G minor, Opus 22, and Miss Menuhin will play Ravel's Sonatine.

Local teacher demonstrates art techniques

William Stone, who will teach at Westmont High School in September, will display his paintings at the Los Gatos Fellowship Gallery during the month of August. Mr. Stone will demonstrate his techniques on Sunday, August 9, from 2 to 4 p.m. at an informal reception which will open to the public free of charge.

Mr. Stone is a versatile artist, combining careers in illustration and fine arts. He will present his works consisting of watercolor, acrylic, collage and casein.

Two books he and his wife have illustrated are "Western Sea Shore" and "Emblems and Ensignias" soon to be published. His paintings have been exhibited in the San Jose Art League, Santa Cruz Art Festival, Santa Cruz Art League Statewide Watercolor Show and the Brass Knocker, Saratoga.

William Stone is a native Californian. He was educated at the University of California at Berkeley, receiving his B.A. Degree in 1951. He attended the School of Medical Illustration, Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, where he graduated as a certified medical illustrator. After working as an illustrator for 2 years, he returned to San Jose State College, receiving his General Secondary Teaching Credential in 1961. He formerly taught at Blackford High School.

Rebekahs honor district prexy

Ada Rebekah Lodge #223 honored Mrs. Ted Holladay, District Deputy President of District 3 as she made her official visit here recently.

Accompanying Mrs. Holladay was Mrs. Andrew Horther, District Marshal.

Her staff formed an honor guard as she was introduced and escorted to a seat of honor.

Other honored guests were Mrs. Conrad Hale, Grand Scribe of the Grand Ladies Encampment Auxiliary, and Noble and Vice Grands of Philotesian #145 Cupertino, San Jose #87, Hesperian #70 Los Gatos, Saratoga #337, Josephine #14 San Jose, Santa Clara #34.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by the blind orchestra from the Blind Recreation Center of Oakland which was clearly enjoyed.

In charge of arrangements for the evening were Past Noble Grands of the Lodge with Mrs. Herman Rice as chairman for the evening.

The hall and banquet room were tastefully decorated in blue and white, Mrs. Holladay's colors.

Come on down for lots of fun and join in on our Family Swim Night, offered to our present students free of charge.

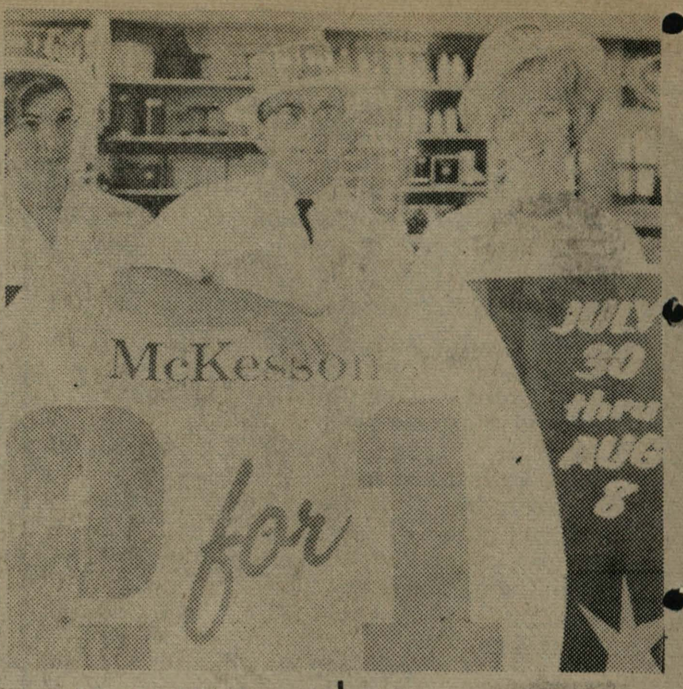
ALL SET--Edith Bernhut (left) and Terri Kawatuchi of Campbell Drugs hand out literature explaining the big 2 for 1 sale that starts tomorrow and runs for 10 days.

CAR CLOUT

Brian L. Murphy, 25, a salesman, 175 Wilton Ave., looked out of his apartment window Saturday night and saw two men going through his car. Murphy dressed and took off in pursuit of the two suspects. En route he stopped off at the Campbell Police Department and reported the incident. Murphy reported $99 in cash and $35 in endorsed checks were taken from his automobile which was parked in front of his apartment. Campbell Police are investigating.



TWO FOR ONE—Geri Bradley (left) and JoAnn Peterson, with the assistance of Earl Nichols of Campbell Drugs in the Campbell Center hold up the banner proclaiming that the 2 for 1 sale starts tomorrow at the store for a 10-day run.

Baker School teacher joins newlywed ranks

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Bernard B. Coullahan are new residents of 3065 Van Sansul, near Campbell, following their recent marriage in the First Methodist Church. Rev. William H. Gould performed the late afternoon ceremony.

The bride is the former Miss Margaret Edith Dooley, a kindergarten teacher at Baker School in the Moreland School District. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Dooley of San Jose.

For her wedding day the bride chose the traditional wedding gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace. Her elbow length veil was held in place with a pearl crown and her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of butterfly orchids and stephanotis.

Five bridal attendants attired in street-length aqua frocks preceded Marcia to the altar. They carried bouquets of yellow carnations trimmed with ivy. Mrs. Richard Dwyer, the bride's sister, was the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Judy Ferrari, Priscilla Campbell, Cynthia Coullahan and Shirley Dorsett. Danny Dwyer was the ring bearer. Brian Campbell served as best man.

Wedgewood Manor in Los Gatos was the setting for the reception for 160 guests. The young couple left for a honeymoon to Vancouver, British Columbia. The new Mrs. Coullahan was graduated from San Jose State College in June. The bridegroom, a cost accountant for IBM in Sunnyvale, also attended SJSC. He is the son of Mrs. Cynthia Coullahan of San Jose.

Fall wedding for Rae Ann Dorcich

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dorcich of Saratoga have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rae Ann, to Neal E. Lanphear of San Jose. The bride-to-be, a Campbell High School graduate, and her fiance, plan a September 20 wedding in Campbell Congregational Church.

Miss Dorcich is employed with Signetics Corp. in Sunnyvale and her fiance holds a position with Smith Termite Control in Campbell. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lanphear of San Jose.

Homan becomes WVJC trustee

William J. Homan, 42, an IBM Corporation electrical engineering technical associate, has been appointed to the West Valley Junior College board of trustees, filling the unexpired term of Albert A. Vatuone, who resigned last month because of increased personal and business duties. Vatuone is Assistant Superintendent of Cambrian Elementary School district.

Homan, an active supporter of education in the community, was appointed by the trustees from a field of eight applicants whom Chairman Bruce F. Allen described at the Board meeting as being "excellent and highly qualified people." Th Board held a personal interview with each applicant before its selection of Homan was made.

The new WVJC trustee has been a member of the Union School District Coordinating Council fo six years. He is a director and a former treasurer of the Cambrian Park Kiwanis Club and is Cambrian Park education chairman of the American Cancer Society.
